Application for IPDPS 2007 Student Travel Assistance Grant Provided through IEEE Computer Society Technical Committee on Parallel Processing

A limited number of modest travel assistance grants are available through the IPDPS sponsor, the IEEE Computer Society's Technical Committee on Parallel Processing. These will be awarded only to students who have registered and are in attendance at IPDPS 2007 in Long Beach, California, and awards will be mailed to students following the event. Additional information may be requested to allow the TCPP to determine the final awards.

To qualify a recipient must be:

- author of an accepted conference paper, attend the conference, and present the paper.
- Student Member of IEEE Computer Society at the time he/she submits an application.
- full-time student regularly registered toward a degree in engineering or related field in a university.

To apply for a travel assistance grant, complete the following information and obtain the signature of your advisor confirming that no local support could be obtained to support your travel to present your paper. A hard copy of this completed application should be submitted in a sealed envelope addressed to "TCPP Student Travel Award Committee." Leave with a volunteer at the IPDPS registration desk.
